

Permaculture Design Course

72 hour PDC certification

June 14th-23th 2013

Vollen, Asker
Norway

Join our Facebook event

The course will include:

Introduction to the Global Ecovillage Network

Principles of Permaculture
Patterns in Nature
Deep Ecology

Designing the Ecovillage, social aspects
The Coordinating Leader
Environmental Footprint Analysis,
Conflict resolution

House design and building techniques
Design tools, siting & zoning, use of materials
Water, energy and heating, social & spiritual aspects

Soil, plants, gardening and farming
Structure and behaviour of soil, mulch gardening
Small scale vegetable planning
Biodynamic/Organic/Chemical farming
Community food production
Garden plan and schedule, compost ingredients

Water and sewage
Water catchment and supply
Biological sewage systems
Living Machines and Flow Forms

Energy sources and alternative technology
Falling water, wind generators, solar power
Bio energy, unconventional sources

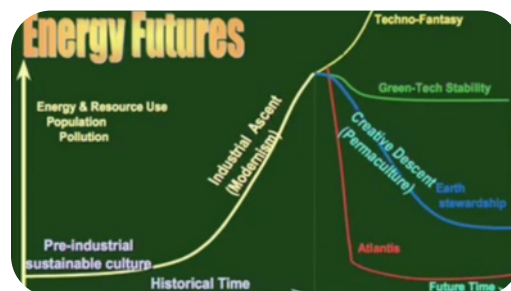

Alternative economics
Indicators of sustainable economic welfare
LETS and self generated systems
Local capital, business & income creation
Community Supported Agriculture

Design hands-on, the design process step by step
Site assessment, creativity and group dynamics
Report writing and project presentation

We will use Permaculture design tools and focus on Ecovillage design.
There will be guest speakers, visits to local projects and a variety of hands-on practical projects. Each participant will prepare and present a personal design project.

Watch the free on-line video www.GeoffLawton.com

Lecturer: Jan Martin Bang has a diploma in Permaculture and is an active member of the Norwegian Permaculture Association. Jan is also chairperson of the Norwegian Ecovillage Association (NØF) and has written several books about environment and community.

Early Bird, by 01.05: 7500 kr/1000€
After 01.05: 8000 kr /1100 €
Includes 3 meals a day, lodging, excursions and certification.
A minimum of 10 participants will be required for the course to run.

Registration:
anemari.aakernes@gmail.com
Tlf +47 41225585

Address: Julius Madsens vei 1, 1390 Vollen, NORWAY.

